

Healthy Headwaters Initiative

HEADWATERS WORKING GROUP

GET INVOLVED!

The Athabasca Watershed Council (AWC) invites all users of the Athabasca Headwaters to get involved in an exciting new opportunity to support the health and sustainability of the watershed!

We are looking for volunteers to join the newly established Healthy Headwaters Working Group, which will aid in:

- Identify areas requiring fish and riparian habitat restoration
- Community-based monitoring for invasive species and aquatic health
- Hands-on restoration efforts, including native species planting and bank stabilization
- External outreach and education on responsible recreation and stream crossings
- Citizen-science data collection

Caring for our watershed...

To manage the water that we all depend on, we must manage the land that we share. To do that, let's come together to understand the issues, challenges, and opportunities affecting our watershed. The Athabasca Watershed Council works to bring stakeholders, citizens, and Indigenous Peoples together to effectively manage the Athabasca River Watershed.
